Experience

I worked as a customer service supervisor at a car maintenance center. I have solid experience in dealing with customers in a positive and professional way, and I'm good at handling and resolving issues. I have extensive experience in the automotive and electronics fields, as well as in many other areas. I have gained a wide range of knowledge and skills through personal experiences and interactions with friends and colleagues. These experiences have prepared me to work confidently and professionally across different fields, allowing me to adapt quickly and handle various responsibilities. I am open to any suitable position. I have experience in customer service and supervision, and I am skilled at dealing with customers and solving problems quickly. I also have strong knowledge of cars, their types, specifications, and maintenance. I can easily adapt to different work environments and I am ready to start immediately.
